Summary of Semester Group Meeting for Medicine with Industrial Specialization, 3. sem KA at 3. oktober 2024

Participants: Semester coordinator, semester secretary, 3 MMA, 2 TM and 2 BM (one online)

Ad 1. Starting the semester

- Semester coordinator will make sure to write out if there is anything in the schedule since the schedule is so empty.
- There are no complaints in terms of information.
- We are still short of a semester representative from TM, Astrid Andersen volunteered.

Ad 2 The physical, esthetic, digital and mental study environment of the semester

- It is cold at the university building. Nothing can be done; it is an engineering problem!
- There are often missing/broken adapters and cables for the screens, so you are not able to connect. You are very welcome to use the building support app.
- The mental study environment, everyone has been hit by it, it can be very hard to find a balance now that you must make your own schedule completely. Please contact semester coordinator if you need a room to meet up or something.
- Before the project is handed in in December, there will be an introduction to CV writing.

Ad 3. Semester activities

- Workshop on systematic literature search
- MedIS opportunities on the 6/11, a student suggested that the alumni could talk about what skills MedIS students bring to the table in terms of career and future.
- Visit from SSI about Responsible science, ethics and biosecurity
- Competencies and CV writing

Ad 4. Preliminary evaluation of the project module

- Remember that it has only been a month and there is plenty of time left. Not everybody has got their data yet. Remember that it is not a paid order, but it is your education, you are able to influence what you would like to learn.
- Semester coordinator suggests having/making a plan B, while plan A is on the way.

Ad 6. AOB

- There is a medicine student congress in spring, which there is a sign-up for in November. This could be a very nice experience (<https://studenterforskning.dk/studenterkongres/>).
- If you want to search for funds for conferences, try it; it looks great on your CV. All HST supervisors have access to Research Professional through which student funding options can be found. Alternatively, you can use "Vejviser til legater og fonde" from the library,
- How many people are allowed to the examination? As many people as you would like, your family, all your supervisors, technicians, co-students, your bf/gf.... The final examination is one hour per student. Semester coordinator says inviting people in could be a really fine way to do it and a great way to remember the day together with your family.
- What if there is company confidentiality? For the exam presentation, you could just explain the method or not give the exact details. The same for the status seminar in the spring, and it is a closed room, which means that everyone understands that it will not leave the room.
